

Anemia

Anemia occurs when the body lacks enough healthy red blood cells. Symptoms include fatigue, weakness, pale skin, dizziness, headaches, and shortness of breath. Causes include iron deficiency, blood loss, and vitamin deficiencies. Treatment depends on the underlying cause.